CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

With the advent of China's entry in The World Trade Organisation and confirmation to host the 2008 Olympics in Beijing, China is opening up a new chapter in the international arena. China becomes a World recognised superpower in international trade, commerce, finance and social status equal to that of United States and Great Britain. The two big cities in China, Shanghai and Beijing will uphold these events and become international cities of the World with distinct significance. Hong Kong, will obviously treasure its two sister-cities and support them with its established financial and banking expertise to enhance its relationship on mutually beneficial grounds.

For the past two years, we have witnessed the further expansion of China's "Open-door" policies, in particular, the Central government encourages people to buy their own home in order to relieve spending on public housing. In this connection, the banking sector also opens up home financing for individuals both locals and foreigners buying their own homes. This chain reaction gives rise to an emergence of a new critical mass of middle-class individuals who have access to bank credits and have enjoyed a status symbol of personal wealth and purchasing power. This capitalistic improvement leads to increased demand and supply of new built property developments in most major cities in China. Shanghai and Beijing have been very bullish for the past 2/3 years.

Hong Kong, taking the benefit of interest rate cut for the past twelve months following the same with USA, home buyers are slowly coming out to look at the new-built market for bargain and cheaper bank financing. This attributes to increased activities in the residential sector in property development and thus enhance economic recovery from the already depressed industry. Hong Kong will be more bullish particularly in the property market sectors when China becomes officially a member of World Trade Organisation. Hong Kong with its history of established international laws in banking and finance will be acting as a back-up city for foreign companies setting up their branch office here to facilitate their activities with China. This is an advantage for Hong Kong to service China and its trading partners.

We are fortunate to be presence in both Shanghai and Hong Kong, with our property development business well in place. We are confidence with our prudent management in both cities to maintain our healthy growth in both profit and sound investment in the property market in which we are good at in the years to come.

Finally, I will take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all our directors and staff for their effort and contribution during the years and our shareholders continuing support and loyalty to our group.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified for the revaluation of certain properties and investments in securities.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong. The principal accounting policies adopted are as follows:

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries made up to 31st March each year.

The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated income statement from the effective date of acquisition or up to the effective date of disposal, as appropriate.

All significant intercompany transactions and balances within the Group have been eliminated on consolidation.

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase consideration over the fair value ascribed to the Group’s share of the separable net assets at the date of acquisition of a subsidiary and is written off to reserves immediately on acquisition. Negative goodwill, which represents the excess of the fair value ascribed to the Group’s share of the separable net assets at the date of acquisition of a subsidiary over the purchase consideration is credited to reserves.

Goodwill (continued)

Premium on acquisition of associates or a jointly controlled entity, representing the excess of the purchase consideration over the fair value ascribed to the Group's share of the separable net assets of the associate or jointly controlled entity at the date of acquisition, is retained in the balance sheet as part of the Group's interests in associates or jointly controlled entities and charged to the income statement in subsequent years if, in the opinion of the Directors, its value has diminished.

On disposal of a subsidiary, associate or jointly controlled entity, the attributable amount of goodwill previously eliminated against or credited to reserves or capitalised within the Group's interest in associate or jointly controlled entity is included in the determination of the profit or loss on disposal of the subsidiary, associate or jointly controlled entity.

Investments in subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an enterprise in which the Company, directly or indirectly, holds more than half of the issued share capital, or controls more than half of the voting power, or where the Company controls the composition of its board of directors or equivalent governing body.

Investments in subsidiaries are included in the Company's balance sheet at cost, as reduced by any impairment losses recognised.

Interests in associates

An associate is an enterprise, over which the Group is in a position to exercise significant influence, including participation in financial and operating policy decisions.

The consolidated income statement includes the Group's share of the post-acquisition results of its associates for the year. In the consolidated balance sheet, interests in associates are stated at the Group's share of the net assets of the associates plus the premium paid less any discount on acquisition in so far as it has not already been written off.

When the Group transacts with its associates, unrealised profits and losses are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the relevant associates, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred.

Joint ventures

A joint venture is a contractual arrangement whereby the Group and other parties undertake an economic activity which is subject to joint control and over which none of the participating parties has unilateral control.

Jointly controlled entities

Joint venture arrangements which involve the establishment of a separate entity in which each venturer has an interest are referred to as jointly controlled entities.

The Group's interests in jointly controlled entities are included in the consolidated balance sheet at the Group's share of the net assets of the jointly controlled entities. The Group's share of post-acquisition results of jointly controlled entities is included in the consolidated income statement. Where the investment cost in a jointly controlled entity is not expected to be fully recoverable in accordance with the contract terms upon dissolution of the jointly controlled entity at the expiry of the contractual arrangement, the expected shortfall is amortised over the remaining contractual period so as to reflect the pattern in which the economic benefits of the investment flows to the Group.

When the Group transacts with its jointly controlled entities, unrealised profits and losses are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the joint venture, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred.

Investment properties

Investment properties are completed properties which are held for their investment potential, any rental income being negotiated at arm's length.

Investment properties are stated at their open market value based on independent professional valuations at the balance sheet date. Any revaluation increase or decrease arising on the revaluation of investment properties is credited or charged to the investment property revaluation reserve unless the balance on this reserve is insufficient to cover a revaluation decrease, in which case the excess of the revaluation decrease over the balance on the investment property revaluation reserve is charged to the income statement. Where a decrease has previously been charged to the income statement and a revaluation increase subsequently arises, this increase is credited to the income statement to the extent of the decrease previously charged.

On disposal of an investment property, the relevant portion of the investment property revaluation reserve attributable to that property is transferred to the income statement.

No depreciation is provided on investment properties except where the unexpired term of the relevant lease is 20 years or less.

Properties under development held for long term purposes

Properties under development held for long term purposes are classified as non-current assets and are stated at cost or valuation less any impairment loss recognised. Cost comprises land costs and development costs including attributable interest and professional charges capitalised during the development period.

No depreciation is provided in respect of properties under development held for long term purposes.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less depreciation. The cost of an asset comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its present working condition and location for its intended use. Expenditure incurred after the assets have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance and overhaul costs, is normally charged to the income statement in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditure has resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of the asset, the expenditure is capitalised as an additional cost of the asset.

The gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an asset is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in the income statement.

Where the recoverable amount of an asset has declined below its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to reflect the decline in value. In determining the recoverable amount of assets, expected future cash flows are not discounted to their present values.

Advantage has been taken of the transitional relief provided by paragraph 72 of Statement of Standard Accounting Practice No. 17 "Property, plant and equipment" issued by the Hong Kong Society of Accountants from the requirement to make regular revaluations of the Group's land and buildings and development properties which had been carried at revalued amounts prior to 30th September, 1995, and accordingly no further revaluation of land and buildings and development properties is carried out. In previous years, the revaluation increase arising on the revaluation of an asset included in land and buildings and development properties was credited to the assets revaluation reserve. Any future decreases in value of these assets will be dealt with as an expense to the extent that they exceed the balance, if any, on the assets revaluation reserve relating to previous revaluation of the same asset. On the subsequent sale or retirement of revalued asset, the attributable revaluation surplus is transferred to retained profits.

No depreciation is provided in respect of land held on freehold.

No residual values have been assumed by the directors in considering the depreciation charges.

Property, plant and equipment (continued)

Depreciation is provided to write off the cost of property, plant and equipment over their estimated useful lives from the date on which they become fully operational, using the straight-line method, at the following rates per annum:

Land in Hong Kong	Over unexpired lease term
Buildings on land in Hong Kong held under long lease	2%
Buildings on freehold land held outside Hong Kong	2%
Buildings on land outside Hong Kong held under medium-term lease (lease with 10 to 50 years to run)	Shorter of lease terms or 50 years
Plant and machinery	10 – 20%
Motor vehicles	20%
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	10 – 20%
Motor vessels	20%

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets or, where shorter, the terms of the leases.

Completed properties for sale

Completed properties for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value is determined by reference to estimated sales proceeds less estimated selling expenses.

Properties under development for sale

Properties under development for sale are stated at cost, plus attributable profits, less any foreseeable losses and sales proceeds received and receivable.

Investments in securities

Investments in securities are recognised on a trade-date basis and are initially measured at cost. At subsequent reporting dates, debt securities that the Group has the expressed intention and ability to hold to maturity (held-to-maturity debt securities) are measured at amortised cost, less any impairment loss recognised to reflect irrecoverable amounts. The annual amortisation of any discount or premium on the acquisition of a held-to-maturity security is aggregated with other investment income receivable over the term of the instrument so that the revenue recognised in each period represents a constant yield on the investment.

All securities other than held-to-maturity debt securities are measured at subsequent reporting dates at fair value.

Where securities are held for trading purposes, unrealised gains and losses are included in net profit or loss for the period. For other securities, unrealised gains and losses are dealt with in equity, until the security is disposed of or is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss is included in net profit or loss for the period.

Other assets

Other assets represent club memberships and are stated at cost, as reduced by any impairment loss that is other than temporary.

Deferred compensation cost

Deferred compensation cost represents the cost paid to the consultants in respect of management service agreement provided by the consultants to the Group. This cost is recognised over the periods of the service and any unearned portion is shown as an asset in the balance sheet.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost, which comprises all costs of purchase and, where applicable, costs of conversion and other costs that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition, is calculated using the weighted average cost method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Foreign currencies

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated at the rates ruling on the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are re-translated at the rates ruling on the balance sheet date. Profits and losses arising on exchange are dealt with in the income statement.

On consolidation, the financial statements of subsidiaries, associates or jointly controlled entities which are denominated in currencies other than Hong Kong dollars and which operate in the People's Republic of China ("PRC") and overseas are translated at the rates ruling on the balance sheet date. All exchange differences arising on consolidation are dealt with in reserves.

Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the results for the year as adjusted for items which are non-assessable or disallowed. Timing differences arise from the recognition for tax purposes of certain items of income and expense in a different accounting period from that in which they are recognised in the financial statements. The tax effect of timing differences, computed using the liability method, is recognised as deferred taxation in the financial statements to the extent that it is probable that a liability or an asset will crystallise in the foreseeable future.

Leases

Leases are classified as finance leases when the terms of the leases transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the assets concerned to the Group. Assets held under finance leases are capitalised at their fair values at the date of acquisition. The corresponding liability to the lessor, net of interest charges, is included in the balance sheet as a finance lease. Finance costs, which represent the difference between the total leasing commitments and the fair value of the assets acquired, are charged to the income statement over the period of the relevant lease so as to produce a constant periodic rate of charge on the remaining balance of the obligations for each accounting period.

Leases (continued)

All other leases are classified as operating leases and the rentals are charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the relevant lease term.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. Capitalisation of such borrowing costs ceases when the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs capitalised.

All other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

Revenue recognition

(a) Sales of properties under development

When property under development is sold in advance of completion, profit is recognised and calculated on a percentage of completion basis and when construction has progressed beyond the preliminary stages of development. The percentage used is based on the proportion of construction costs incurred at the balance sheet date to estimated total construction costs. Profit recognised on this basis is limited to the amount of sales deposits received.

(b) Sales of goods

Sales of goods are recognised when goods are delivered and title has passed.

(c) Hotel operations

Revenue arising from hotel operations is recognised when the relevant services are provided.

(d) Rental income

Rental income arising from properties is recognised on a straight-line basis over the periods of the respective tenancies.

(e) Interest income

Interest income is accrued on a time basis by reference to the principal outstanding and at the interest rate applicable.

(f) Management fee is recognised when the relevant services are provided.

Retirement benefits scheme

The pension costs charged in the income statement represent the contributions payable in respect of the current year to the retirement benefits scheme.

Cash equivalents

Cash equivalents represent short-term highly liquid investments which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which were within three months of maturity when acquired, less advances from banks repayable within three months from the date of the advance.
